

Battle for Holland is Near End

Germans Admit Many of Their Guns Are Under Eight Feet of Water

By William Frye

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Allied columns paced by tanks and planes raced for the German escape bridges and ferries across the broad Maas and Hollandsch Diep in Holland only five to 12 miles away today, and Berlin radio asserted that a major withdrawal across that barrier to Rotterdam was in full swing.

Before the Maas, entered Roosendaal, a city of 25,000, 12 miles south of the Willemstad ferry across the Diep, the sea arm of the river.

American armor plunged to within six miles of the Moerdijk bridge, one of the longest spans in Europe, and other forces fought to within three miles of the Maas and five miles from the Geerttruidenberg crossing by capturing Oosterhout northeast of fallen Breda.

The German stand in all southwestern Holland and northern Belgium had been cut into four pockets, and military spokesmen said the German forces was disintegrating under the concerted pounding.

The four pockets were below the Maas where the chief resistance center of Breda had been taken; on Beveland island; on flooded Walcheren island, virtually cut off by a Canadian drive to within 3,000 yards of the causeway connecting with Beveland; and a tiny six mile long, four wide corner of Belgium south of the Schelde.

North of Tilburg a British column lashed out from Loon on Zand and seized the village of Kaatsheuvel, only three miles south of the Maas, and drove to within two miles of Waspik to the north-west, only three miles from the Geerttruidenberg span across the Maas.

The drive across flooded lowlands, laced by canals and dikes, in the campaign to clear the Schelde approaches to the Allied harbor of Antwerp, was gaining momentum and approaching a conclusion after some of the most difficult fighting of the war.

Fighting from Island
On Walcheren the remnants of German forces were fighting from islands within the island — bits of land and raised dikes around the principal cities of Vlissingen (Flushing) and Middelburg which stood above the flood waters loosed by Allied bombing of the sea walls. The Germans admitted many of their guns were under eight feet of water.

The battles of southwestern Holland appeared to be approaching a victorious conclusion today as Allied columns crashed through thin German rear guard and enemy columns, opening fleeing northward, were ripped by the guns of strafing Allied planes.

A British army spokesman said the fall of Breda had brought about the "disintegration" of German forces south of the Maas (Meuse) river.

To the east, however, an enemy counterthrust launched too late to save the garrisons north of Antwerp grew into a determined attack, supported by tanks, artillery and planes, and gained ground against a stubborn American defense.

Striking on the east flank of the Allies' Dutch salient in the Maas bulge, the Germans yesterday swept through the town of Liesel and reached Asten, 4,000 yards from Meijel.

President May Speak in Boston Saturday

By Howard Fieger

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Reporting President Roosevelt's political advisers "encouraged" by his Philadelphia-Chicago trip, the White House indicated today a Boston speech will wind up the fourth term campaign.

Thus it appeared Mr. Roosevelt would forego a rumored Ohio appearance.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early told reporters today the president will speak in Boston, adding "it would seem" the appearance there will be on Saturday.

Carl E. Bolte Refers to Rotary Ideals

When Applied are A Yardstick for Business Honesty

Unless you, as business men, apply ethical ideals in business the government is going to step in and take over. They are eager to do this very thing, said Carl E. Bolte of Slater, before the Sedalia Rotary Club today. The speaker continued: "Our Rotary Club ideal as set forth in vocational service, when followed, will make for the application of integrity and fair dealings in all of our various lines of business. In striving for business honesty," said he, "we should use this four-fold yardstick as a test. Is it true? Is it fair? Will it make for company good will and friendship from the employees? Will it accrue profit to all concerned?"

The speaker went on to say that the post-war era is going to bring a challenge to leaders in business and professional life, and that will revolve around four major problems. The first of these problems will be to eliminate strife between labor and management. The second is to correct lack of confidence in domestic and foreign trade. The third is to cure the racial and religious prejudices that have been aroused. Fourth and final is to find some means of eliminating economic depressions which have plagued this country and the world all too frequently in the past. "You as a group of Rotarians," he said, "by applying the ideals of vocational service can help to do this not only in your own community, and country, but internationally as well." Mr. Bolte had just returned a short time ago from two years in Washington with the War Production Board, and he drew home his statements with observations and illustrations out of that background of experience.

Before going to Washington Mr. Bolte was president of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Lake of the Ozarks Council of Boy Scouts, and the Missouri Millers Association.

Lawrence Barnett Presided
President Lawrence Barnett presided over the meeting, and B. B. Bess program chairman for October, introduced the speaker. Guests were Dr. Clyde Sherman pastor of the First Christian church, with Nolan Bricken; H. J. Hausman with Fred Brink; T. W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist church with Dan Dean; R. G. Williamson, pastor of the Congregational-Presbyterian church, with Arthur Hoffman; Claude Boul with Dr. Roy Keller.

Says Boys Are News Hungry

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) demanded an end today to what she called the army's "filtering" of news before it gets to the soldiers.

She returned from a tour of the European theater declaring that the men in service "are hungry" for news.

The "Stars and Stripes," service publication, should have "free access to the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service without having this news filtered through an army agency in the United States," Mrs. Rogers asserted. "Such an agency," she said in a statement, "cannot have the wisdom to decide what is good for the morale of overseas troops, even if that is considered to be afraid to give them."

Teachers to Convention

State Association in Kansas City Thursday and Friday

The Sedalia public schools will dismiss at the close of classes Wednesday afternoon, for the remainder of the week, so that the teachers may attend the annual state convention of the Missouri Teachers association to be held Thursday and Friday in Kansas City.

Sessions will be conducted in the Municipal auditorium. Delegates from Sedalia are Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of schools, Miss Ida Cruzan, president of the Sedalia Community Teachers association, Miss Marian Keens and Miss Lucille Brunkhorst. Some Rural Schools Close
Approximately 10 rural schools will be represented at the convention. Teachers from some of the county schools attended the recent district meeting at Warrensburg and will not be in attendance at the state meeting. Schools whose teachers are going to Kansas City as delegates will be closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday only.

F. L. Schlagle of North Kansas City, National Education Association, will be a leading figure attending the convention.

Mrs. Homer Rich of Marshall sang "The Sleeping Soldier Boy" which was dedicated to the soldiers of both world wars. Mrs. Thomas Perry Storts, also of Marshall, was the accompanist.

Japanese Take To The Hills

MacArthur Controls Two-thirds of Leyte Island, Has Strangle Hold on Samar

MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES, Oct. 30.—(P)—Ten days after he waded ashore, Gen. Douglas MacArthur today controlled two-thirds of strategic Leyte Island and had a strangle hold on adjacent Samar as the retreating Japanese took to the hills or sought to escape by barge through waters patrolled by deadly American P-T boats.

MacArthur said the liberation of 1,500,000 Filipinos on the two central Philippine Islands was virtually completed. The natives attended Sunday church services and the children were back at school. Their lives rapidly took on a degree of normalcy.

As late reports on the defeat of the Japanese fleet placed it as one of the greatest naval whippings of all time, MacArthur announced in his Monday communique that his men controlled 1,800 square miles on Leyte alone and that the remaining enemy garrisons on Leyte and Samar were isolated and helpless.

They can be "destroyed at will," he said.

(An unconfirmed Tokyo broadcast heard in Melbourne said 40 American transports conveyed by cruisers and destroyers were sighted yesterday heading for Leyte, and added: "The battle for the Philippines is about to begin in earnest.")

Seize Carigara
American first cavalry troops by seizing Carigara town on Carigara bay, have eliminated the enemy's only effective point of reinforcement for the Leyte Valley, which has been bottled up by the Yanks with brilliant guerilla aid.

All organized resistance in the valley appeared to have ceased after last-ditch stands last night at Cavite bridge, and the Dagami junction were crushed by American tanks, artillery and bayonets.

The American 24th division was preparing for a knockout blow against a small Japanese infantry force at Jaro, on the main valley road four miles southwest of the Cavite bridge, but most of Gen. Shiro Makino's 16th division—the once-arrogant perpetrators of the infamous death march of Bataan—were scattering into the hills.

Motor patrol-toped boats patrolling Ormoc bay on the west coast of Leyte attacked barges which the Japanese were believed using in attempts to withdraw from that side of the island.

Will Continue Investigation

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 30.—(P)—The Cole county grand jury strongly indicated today it would not finish its investigation of reported pay kick-backs to legislators until after next week's general election.

Curtis Quimby, Cole County prosecutor, said several witnesses sought in connection with the legislative inquiry could not be located this week.

After hearing three legislative witnesses this morning the jury probably will occupy the rest of the three days the jury plans to meet this week, Quimby said.

Witnesses heard this morning were Mr. Beulah Huston of Jefferson City and her daughter, Miss Betty Huston, both employed on the senate clerical staff in the 1943 session, and E. J. McKee, employe in the state treasurer's office where senate payroll records are handled.

Truman at Providence, R. I., Tonight

Walsh Announces He is for Entire Democratic Ticket

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Senator Harry S. Truman put the finishing touches today on a speech he will deliver at Providence, R. I., tonight on the business aspects of the Democratic administration after a series of week end campaign developments which included endorsement of President Roosevelt for re-election by Senator Walsh (D-Mass.)

The Democratic vice presidential candidate planned to drive by automobile to Providence and, after speaking, board his special car for the trip into New York where he and Vice President Henry A. Wallace will address a rally in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

He will speak again at Pittsburgh Thursday night after platform appearances in several West Virginia cities and bring his campaign to a close at his home town of Independence, Mo., Nov. 4.

Walsh Breaks Silence
Walsh broke his silence on the 1944 campaign election when he announced to a party rally that he was "heart and soul for the success of our entire ticket."

Walsh introduced Truman to the gathering as "a real honest-to-God man and a mighty able senator."

The senior Massachusetts senator had failed to attend a meeting Saturday night at Worcester where Truman made a foreign policy address, one of a series in which President Roosevelt's running mate has called upon Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to "repudiate" eight Republican senators seeking re-election, and described by Truman as "isolationists."

Robert E. Hannegan, national Democratic chairman, who conferred here with Truman Sunday, told reporters Walsh had been unable to attend the Worcester meeting but that his telegram of regrets had been sent to the wrong hotel.

Pfc. Everett Bake, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bake of Versailles, was killed in action September 25 somewhere in the South Pacific area, according to a government message received last week by his wife, also of Versailles.

He leaves his wife, his one-year-old son, Everett Lee, Jr., and his parents.

Pvt. Bake was employed at the Goodman Shoe store of Versailles several years ago and was manager of a shoe store in Kansas City at the time of his induction into the army.

BULLETIN

PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 30.—(P)—Third fleet carrier planes probably sank one heavy cruiser, damaged two others and an oil tanker and destroyed at least 90 Japanese aircraft in raids over Luzon Island in the Philippines Saturday and Sunday.

They also destroyed three coastal cargo vessels near Cebu, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported in a communique today.

Although Nimitz did not say, it was considered probable that the three cruisers might have been refugees from last week's naval battle in the Sibuyan sea, San Bernardino strait.

Shorten Odds On Roosevelt

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—(P)—Odds on President Roosevelt's re-election have been shortened from 3-1 to 17-5 and odds on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey lengthened from 1-2 1/2 to 1-3, betting commissioner James J. Carroll said today.

Under the new odds bettors must wager $17 to win $5 on President Roosevelt's re-election or wager $1 to win $3 on the election of Gov. Dewey.

Carroll, in releasing his first list of odds by states which show Roosevelt favored to win in 32 and Dewey in 16, said the president is figured to take 370 electoral votes while the states with the Dewey money total 161 electoral votes.

Roosevelt's states as listed by Carroll Washington, Montana, California, Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Florida, Virginia, Nevada, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, West Virginia, New Jersey, New York, Oregon and Massachusetts.

Dewey states: North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Vermont, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Michigan, Ohio, Maine, Illinois and Minnesota.

Wounded

Pvt. Harry Spieler, son of Mrs. Carrie Spieler, 1414 South Prospect avenue, was seriously wounded in action October 14 and is in a hospital in Holland, according to a telegram received this morning by his mother.

He was previously wounded August 23 in France.

Three Die in Plane Crash Near Belton

SAAF Officers Leave Field on Routine Flight

An army transport training plane which apparently exploded in the air, crashed and burned Sunday morning in a meadow on a farm a mile and a half northeast of Belton, Mo., near Kansas City, killing the three officer occupants of the plane.

The dead as announced by the commanding officer of the Sedalia Army Airfield are:

Flight Officer Raymond C. Ernst, 23 years old, whose wife Mrs. Patricia J. Ernst, lives at Knob Noster.

Lieut. George P. Tiernan, 26, Los Angeles, believed to have been the pilot.

Flight Officer Edward L. Gehm, 22, Ridgefield Park, N. J.

Farmers in the vicinity who went to the scene said the plane was enveloped in flames immediately after it crashed on a farm occupied by Rex Vice. Ray Reynolds, farmer, who lives about one-fourth mile north of the scene of the crash, said he and Mrs. Reynolds heard the motors of the transport as it soared over their farm and within a few minutes heard a "terrific crash." They rushed out into the farm yard and saw the plane burning.

Reynolds said no attempt was made to rescue the fliers because of the flames.

Military on Guard

Military officers from the Grandview airport, an auxiliary to the Sedalia field, rushed to the scene and placed the wreckage under guard.

A. J. Sears, a justice of the peace at Belton, who acts as a deputy coroner, said he was not notified officially of the crash. He said he learned of the accident from some friends. Dr. E. M. Griffith of Harrisonville, Cass county coroner, was said to be away from home until Tuesday.

Army officials at the Sedalia air field indicated the cause of the crash could not be determined until an official inquiry is made. The plane apparently had taken off from the Sedalia field.

"It sounded like it exploded in the air," Reynolds commented. "We heard the plane go over and then heard a terrific explosion."

Sears said a man whose name he did not recall told him "it looked like the plane nosed down to the ground."

Fire fighting equipment and an ambulance from the Grandview airport were sent to the scene.

The bodies were brought to the Gillespie funeral home here.

Sedalians on State Committee

J. K. Kidd, Jr., was appointed state junior baseball commissioner of the American Legion, by the state commander, at a convention held recently in St. Louis.

James Franks and J. H. Brooks were appointed members of the Legion State Fair committee at the same meeting.

Brooks, division vice commander, and S. J. Timborious, commander of the seventh district are members of the executive committee of the department of the State of Missouri by virtue of their offices.

Attacks Against Manila

American Navy Launches Aerial Raids After Great Naval Triumphs

By the Associated Press

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 30.—The victorious American navy has launched new aerial attacks against Manila, Tokyo reported today, after sinking or damaging 58 Japanese warships in one of history's greatest naval triumphs.

The Third and Seventh U. S. fleets definitely sank 24 Japanese warcraft, including four aircraft carriers and two battleships, in last week's naval action off the Philippines, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced last night.

Thirteen more Japanese craft, including a battleship, were damaged so badly they may have sunk and 21 other warcraft, including six battleships, were damaged.

The total — at least 500,000 tons — is more warcraft than Japan lost in all the four preceding great Pacific war sea battles combined.

U. S. Losses Six Ships
American forces spent six warships for a victory by which, Nimitz said, "the Japanese fleet has been decisively defeated and routed." Dispatches from the Philippines say, however, American personnel casualties were "considerable." In addition the 10,000-ton Australian cruiser, Australia, was damaged.

(Tokyo radio today reported, without Allied confirmation, that 200 U. S. carrier planes staged three raids on Manila and Clark airfield Saturday — just three days after heavy fighting in the naval battle ended. Japanese aircraft, said another Tokyo broadcast, Sunday began attacking an American task force, including four aircraft carriers, in Lamon bay, on the east coast of Luzon, opposite Manila.)

Overwhelming Victory
Nimitz' 1100-word communique said that "amplifying reports, although still subject to revision as more information is received, indicate an overwhelming victory.... The second battle of the Philippine sea ranks as one of the major sea battles of World War II in the Pacific."

The three related actions, thus classified as the second battle of the Philippine sea, were fought south of Formosa, off the east coast of Samar and in Surigao strait off southeastern Leyte, Oct. 23, 24 and 25. Aircraft and submarines scored more successes in hunting down survivors the next two days.

Probably only two Japanese ships escaped undamaged from the debacle. No modern nation has had its fleet so nearly destroyed in one engagement.

More ships were sunk or damaged in the World War I battle of Jutland, but the losses were nearly equal.

The Philippines battle involved more than the 248 ships engaged at Jutland, although exact figures cannot be given. This means that American naval power alone totaled approximately 200 warships, possibly more.

Not so Many Marriages

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—There have been fewer marriages this year than last — in big cities at least — and September was no exception.

The census bureau reported today that in cities with more than 100,000 population, 42,000 marriage licenses were issued in September, compared with 48,000 the same month last year. In the first nine months of this year, 387,793 licenses were issued, an 8.6 per cent drop from the 424,397 licenses issued in the first nine months of 1943.

Odd fact: The changes between 1943 and 1944 ranged from an increase of 139.1 per cent in Kansas City, Kan., to a decrease of 62.3 per cent in adjoining Kansas City, Mo. The largest changes in number of marriages usually reflect changes in state laws.

happens that some new political cases have just come up.

They involve alleged violations of the Corrupt Practices Act which requires that all political parties file a list of their contributions at regular intervals and that no contributions be received from corporations.

Just a few days ago, the senate campaign investigating committee unearthed the fact that Roosevelt-hating American Democratic National Committee, whose high-sounding name is not to be confused with the regular Democratic National Committee, had received contributions from three corporations—Advance Aluminum Casting Company, of Chicago; R. B. Walker Co., of Mobile, Ala., and the Potash Company of America, Carlsbad, N. Mex.

No Report on Contributors
It was also revealed that the American Democratic Committee had kept secret the names of some contributors and had filed no report on contributors for the public to scrutinize. Among others, a $1,432 contribution from General Robert E. Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck and organizer of the America First Committee, was kept secret.

What the Justice Department does about this remains to be seen. Meanwhile, however, it has not acted in certain other political cases, one being that of Congressman Eugene Cox of Georgia, Democrat, who was shown to have received $2,500 in compensation for getting a new wave length for a radio station in Albany, Ga.

This column is now in possession of certain hitherto unpublished official documents in the Congressman Cox case.

One document, a report signed by Wendell Berge, then assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division, categorically recommended that criminal action be taken against Congressman Cox for violating Section 203, Title 18 of the U. S. Code, which provides that a congressman cannot receive payment for representing anyone before a government agency.

Stock Certificates For Compensation
Assistant Attorney General Berge recommended to his superiors as follows:

"The case is quite complete now; we are prepared for, and I recommend, immediate presentation to the grand jury in Washington."

Berge reported:
"Receipt by registered mail of compensation in Washington in the shape of a certificate for 25 shares of stock in the Herald Broadcasting Company of the par value of $100 per share is likewise established."

"Venue, in my opinion, consequently lies in Washington, although there is a 'wash' transaction involving the exchange of $2,500 checks between Cox and the radio station in Georgia, which the defense may argue demonstrates payment was made in Georgia."

Berge also transmitted to his superiors a long report prepared by an assistant, Raoul Berger, giving the detailed evidence against Congressman Cox. Among other things it stated:

Prosecution Never Made
"The documentary evidence leaves no doubt that Cox's clients regarded him as their legal representative, that they believed Cox 'compelled' the Federal Communications Commission to grant the license—as, in fact, he did—and that he was paid for his services."

However, Congressman Cox, an intimate poker-playing friend of Speaker Sam Rayburn, was never prosecuted. Should Governor Dewey be elected, the statute of limitations will not have run on this case. It would be interesting to see what Dewey would do.

Tomorrow, this column will report on how Dewey has handled certain cases in New York.

NOTE—While not prosecuting Cox, the justice department did indict Congressman James Curley, Democrat, former governor of Massachusetts, who helped manage Roosevelt's campaign for nomination at Chicago in 1932.

Glamor Girl Judged
New Deal glamor girl Evie Robert, wife of the former secretary of the Democratic National Committee, was driving through Maryland, the other evening, with 70-year-old Charley Michelson, the Democratic publicity sage. They had been visiting the farm of Julius Lally, proprietor of Harvey's restaurant and were returning to Washington.

Mrs. Robert, who never does anything at a snail's pace, suddenly heard a policeman's siren behind her. She pulled over to the curb.

"Let me see your driver's license," demanded an irate Maryland state policeman. Mrs. Robert fumbled at length through her purse, finally pulled out a driver's permit.

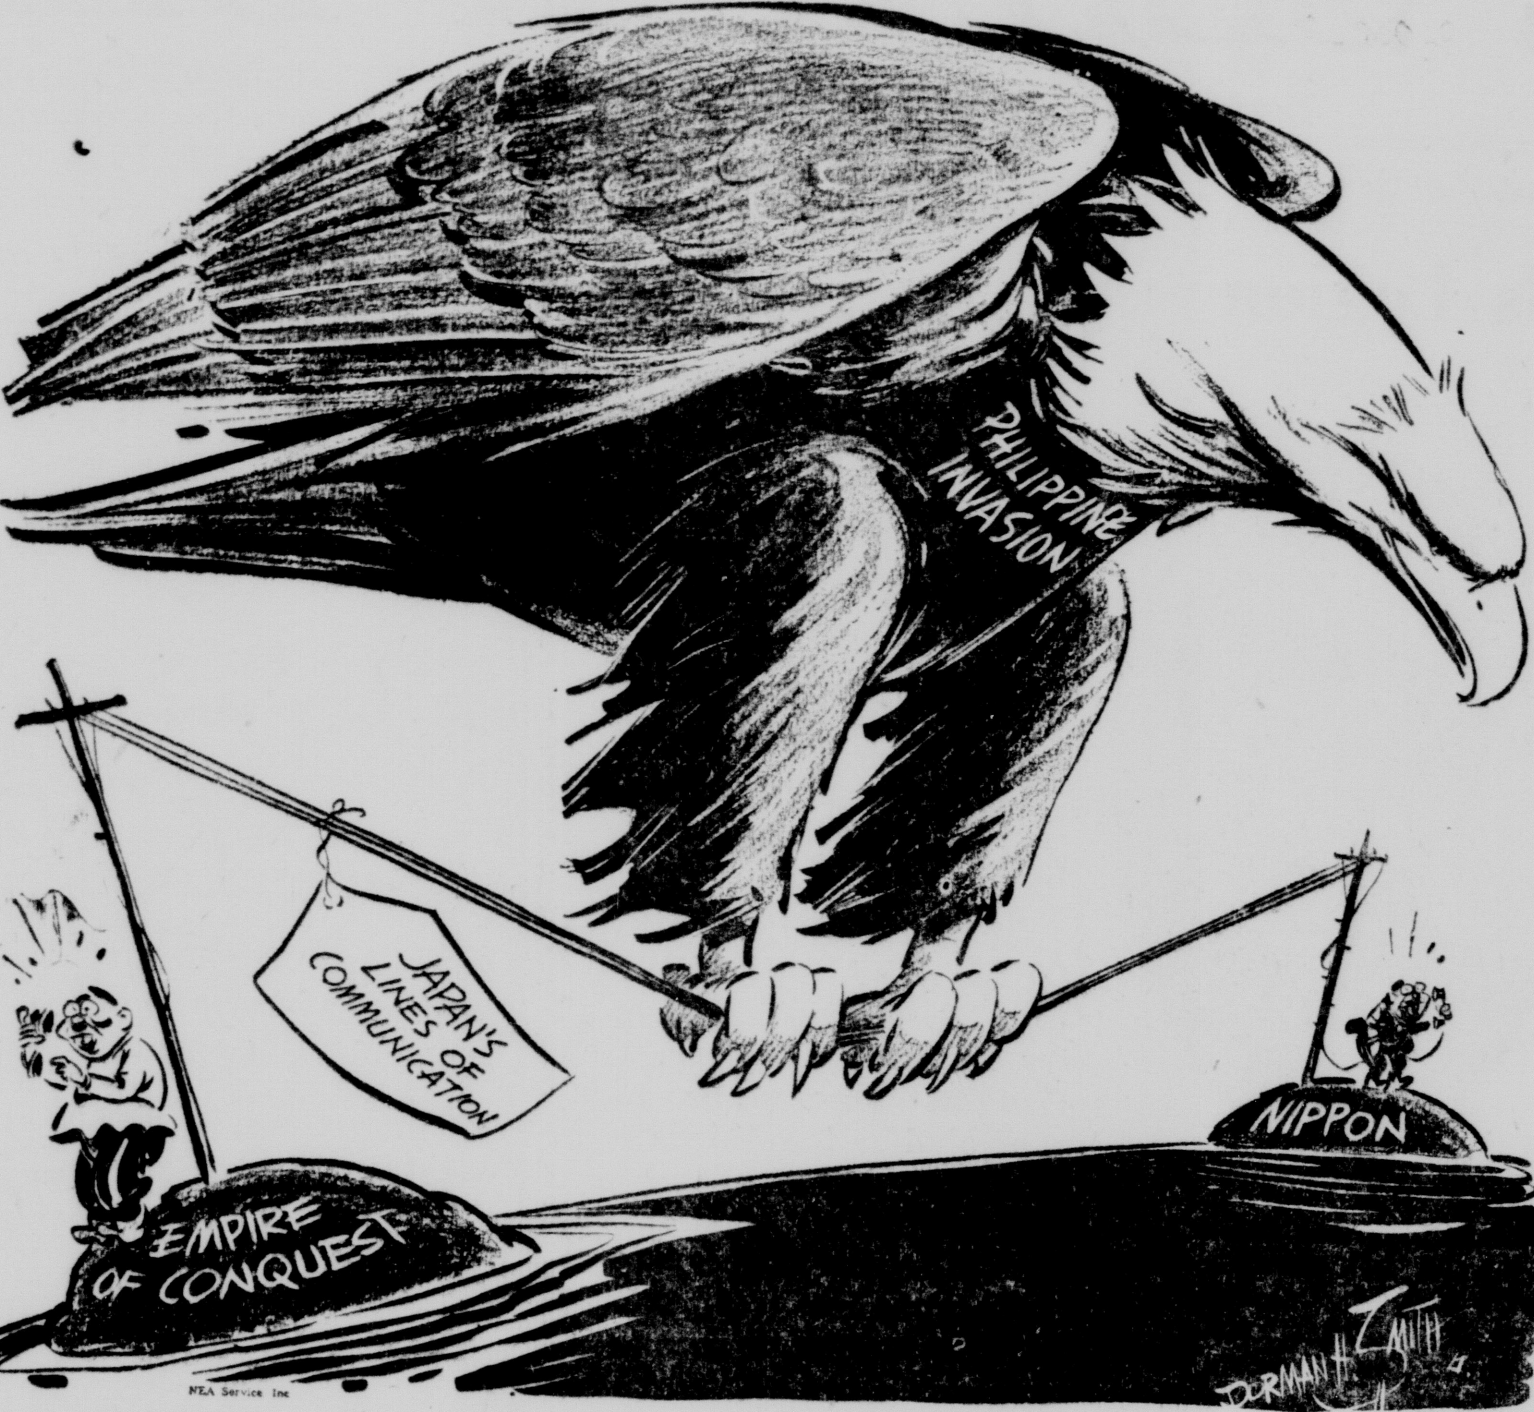

The policeman looked at it unsatisfied. "Now let me see your registration card," he demanded. "Well, you can just find it yourself," replied Evie. "It's some place in this car and you will have to look for it."

The officer, unaccustomed to taking orders, nevertheless began to search. He started to look in the side pocket of Evie's car.

"Why, officer, you are not even warm," taunted Mrs. Robert. This was too much. The beautiful Evie promptly was locked up. She stayed there until Charley Michelson raked up some cash.

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

XXVI

FIRST TROJAN HORSE: WE WANT A LEADER

THE exasperated business or professional man who says, "What we need is a leader," is calling for the death of his cherished democracy. It was precisely by wishing for a "leader" to command them that the German people let themselves be sucked into the maw of Nazism.

We enjoy as a republic the privilege of choosing our representatives freely every few years. If the men we elect annoy or disappoint us, then it is not the representative system which is at fault, but our own judgment. It is the duty of our representatives to debate, to discuss, before reaching a decision. This makes for a certain slowness, a certain clumsiness. But with all its admitted faults, would we want to exchange our system for the public as opposed to the secret ballot, or for the single, Party candidate?

SECOND TROJAN HORSE: NAZISM PROTECTS PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

THE Nazis won capitalist support in Germany by claiming that they would protect private enterprise. Then they introduced a system more severely regimented than Communism.

In the service, one of them named Phillip Murray, and friends of her opponent, reactionary Congressman Howard Smith, plan to use this against her. No relation to CIO Leader Murray, she is the daughter of the late Senator Chilton of West Virginia. Woodrow Wilson's senate leader.

Mrs. Murray's boosters have devised the campaign slogan, "Vote for a three-star mother against a triple-plated heel."

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

One of the best known stockmen in Central Missouri informs the Democrat that Pettis county won a larger number of prizes, and of greater value, than any other one county in the United States at the World's Fair. The aggregate value of awards taken was $24,880. N. H. Gentry captured the greatest number, nearly a hundred in all, next coming L. M. Monsees & Sons of Limestone Valley Stock Farm. Mr. Gentry received something like $10,000 in awards with the Monsees exhibits taking awards amounting to about $8,500.

E. J. Knox has disposed of his general merchandise store in Smithton and is preparing to move for many years of the interwar period foreign businessmen on whom the Nazi wanted to make a good impression came to admire the Nazi version of German economy. They got, of course, a rosier view. It is to Germany's advantage to have potential foreign investors believe that the Nazis reserve special privileges for capitalists. They do—but only for the capitalists who benefit the Nazi Party.

Vast amounts of money have been made in Germany by enterprising men and women. But these deals were at the expense either of the masses or of conquered populations. And they were invariably somewhat crooked, placing the businessman at the mercy of Nazi supervisors, for each transaction could be completed only with Nazi approval. And before giving its approval the Party must not only have gotten "its share," but the supervising Nazi official had to be rendered "co-operative."

THIRD TROJAN HORSE: SOVIET RUSSIAN DANGER

THEIR system of frightening the western powers with the specter of Bolshevism served the Nazis well during interwar days and during much of World War II. But no matter how serious our economic problems, there is no reason for panic.

The international craving of the masses for security is greater than it has ever been before, and they look for protection to their unions, to business organizations, or to their governments. I believe that we have enough initiative, intelligence, and ability to safeguard the security of those who want to work, and at the same time to preserve our freedom.

Both the German and the Russian systems of regimentation promise security to their workers, both include labor unions, and both utilize them for political purposes. Despite the absence of Nazi soap-box orators, like the soap-box Communists in Union Square, Germany's Labor Front propaganda has reached an astonishing number of Americans. Within the past two years I have met more workers in the United States who believed that German treatment of workers shamed the American treatment than men who claimed the Communist system superior for the workers.

These men haven't been to either country. They know only what they have heard, glowing reports of workers returned or writing from Germany, from German relatives of other workers, from Swedish, Danish, Irish and other renegades who were Nazi agents, bursting with tales of labor's happiness under the Nazi regime.

I never hear evidence of the Nazi germ among American workers without remembering an agent of the Gestapo in Berlin who made a bit of pocket money now and then by providing me with news.

My Gestapo tipster talked repeatedly about the tremendous organization the government had built up to collect data on American industry, to foment labor trouble in the United States in the event of war.

Such extensive preparation for sabotage was not intended for wartime use alone. In peacetime, while we are "co-operating" with Germany, to be Christian and kind (and also to regain our markets), German agents who are thoroughly familiar with our procedures will exert every effort to hamper our output, to weaken us internally and to cripple us as a competitor.

The propagandists who point only to the "Communist danger" are trying to make us look the other way while they stick a knife into our ribs. Remembering the great man who said that if we were all good Christians there would be no need for Marxism, I have no doubt that if we use to the full our democratic duties and privileges, we can make our democracy immune to any danger from Communism or Nazism.

Estimate Votes To be Cast

The Democrat and Republican state chairmen have agreed on an estimate of voters for Missouri. A table showing the compilation of registered and otherwise qualified voters for the coming presidential election, as estimated, gives the service vote at 100,000.

The eligibles for Missouri are 2,300,000; while they declare the vote to be cast will be 1,500,000 plus the service vote which they estimate as 100,000, or a total of 1,600,000.

The estimated vote for this year is short more than 200,000 votes as cast in the election of 1940. The official vote of 1940 was 1,833,729.

The national total estimate of voters and votes to be cast are: Eligibles 60,766,625; 1944 vote other than the service vote estimated at 44,352,000; the service vote estimated at 3,393,000; while the official vote of 1940 was 49,815,312.

Otherwise the estimated vote for 1944 combined is 47,745,000 or 2,070,312 votes short of the 1940 official tabulation.

Production Of Cows In The Dairy Herd Association

The 128 cows owned by the members of the Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association produced an average of 1516 pounds of milk and 27.8 pounds of butterfat during the month of October by Mrs. R. S. Caldwell, tester of the Association.

tion. Association members had 16 cows that produced over 50 pounds of butterfat, 19 that produced over 40 but under 50 and 15 that produced more than 1000 pounds of milk.

Three low producing cows were sold from two herds during the month.

For dairy cows to do a good job of producing milk, they must have a good ration. The kind of roughage fed should be the guide in determining the amount and quality of grain fed.

(1) When the roughage is good, legume hay, or an excellent pasture, feed 12 per cent protein grain ration.

(2) When the roughage is a mixture of grasses and legumes, feed a 16 per cent protein grain ration.

(3) When the roughage fed is poor, no legume hay, feed an 18 per cent ration.

Should Cull Poor Pullets

Use discrimination in selecting the pullets placed in the laying house, urges E. B. Winner of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, who adds that it is wishful thinking to expect poor pullets to make good layers. Poor pullets only add to an already over-crowded condition in most houses, increase the mortality problem, consume valuable food, and lessen the profits from the farm flock.

Those pullets that have failed to measure up in growth and body weight with the majority of the flock should be culled. Such pullets usually will be found to have rounded, narrow backs and shallow bodies as indications of lack of vigor. Their beaks and shanks will carry less yellow pigment than the good pullets, if they are of the yellow-skinned varieties.

The better pullets will have broad backs that are square and angular, their bodies will be deeper, and they will weigh from  $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{3}{4}$  of a pound more than the cull birds.

If the birds are already housed, they should be looked over again to see if there are not a few more that should be sold. If they have not been housed yet it will pay to choose carefully and house only the best ones. If there is any question, sell the doubtful birds.

It has been estimated that the temperature of the center of the sun is not more than 180,000,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Next Week in the Garden

Put Manure on Gardens This Fall

The greatest need of most Missouri gardens is for organic matter. Barnyard manure applied and plowed under in the fall is an excellent source of this material.

This allows time for rotting so that next spring the soil will be in a condition to supply food to the growing plants. During the growing season the organic matter will serve as a sponge, thereby increasing the moisture holding capacity of the soil. This will make it more resistant to drought, and the crops will not suffer so quickly during dry periods.

Apply as much manure as can be plowed under. This practice every fall with result in efficient production of high quality vegetable.

The Two-Area Garden System

The vegetable garden, efficiently managed, produces more crops than any similar sized area. This requires a soil of high fertility to maintain production. Where space is available it is desirable to have more than one garden area. While one place is producing vegetables the other is growing green manure crops.

Naturally, the areas should be near the same size. After vegetables have been harvested, sow the area to rye. Plow the rye under, they should be looked over again to see if there are not a few more that should be sold. If they have not been housed yet it will pay to choose carefully and house only the best ones. If there is any question, sell the doubtful birds.

Tree Seedlings Are Available

More than one million tree seedlings will be available for planting on Missouri farms during the spring of 1945, according to J. U. Morris, County Extension Agent.

These trees are distributed through a cooperative program of the State Extension Service and the Missouri Conservation Commission, and can be purchased by any landowner in the State for the approximate cost of production. Orders can be placed now through the County Agent's office, but, since fall planting is not recommended, deliveries will not be made until after the beginning of the spring planting season.

Trees which are purchased through this program can be used for planting windbreaks, woodlots, or for erosion control, but must not be used for ornamental or shade tree planting.

The following species of trees will be available for the coming season: Black Locust, Hardy Catalpa, Black Walnut, Osage Orange, Green Ash, Shortleaf Pine, Ponderosa Pine, Jack Pine, and Red Cedar. Anyone wishing to purchase trees should place his order with Mr. Morris as soon as possible since the nursery supplies are frequently exhausted before all orders are filled.

Vegetable Storing Is Important

In Providing a year around supply of fruits and vegetables for the family the problems of winter storage are no less important than those of production, says Clyde R. Cunningham of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Vegetables to be placed in storage should be of high quality; free from insect damage, sunburn, cuts and bruises.

The storage place must be so constructed and managed that it will provide the right conditions of moisture, temperature, and ventilation.

Beets, carrots, turnips, winter radishes and rutabagas do best at 32 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit in moist storage with limited ventilation. These conditions apply also to parsnips, salsify and horseradish, but these crops can be left in the garden through slight freezes without damage.

Irish potatoes; 36 to 40 degrees, medium moisture, limited ventilation. Cabbage and Chinese cabbage; 32 to 40, medium moisture, medium ventilation.

Onions; cold, dry, medium ventilation.

Squash and pumpkin; 40 to 50 degrees, dry, maximum ventilation.

Sweet potatoes; first well cured, then in warm storage around 55 degrees, well ventilated.

Beans, peas, and corn (dry); in dry conditions, protected from insects.

Canned products; above freezing and below 80 degrees, without wide variation in temperature, and protected from light (if in glass).

All storage should be managed to avoid changes of temperature. All products should be inspected every week during the first month or more in storage.

Suggests Screens Be Inspected And Stored

When window screens are taken down to be stored for winter, they should be carefully inspected for breaks in the wire, cautions Miss Julia M. Rocheford of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. If breaks are found, they should be patched at once. The screens should be carefully cleaned of dust, and if the wire is rubbed well on both sides with a cloth dipped in kerosene rust may be prevented. The screens should be stored in a dry place and either stacked flat or perpendicularly, using care to prevent breaking the wire.

Meeting at Brown Home

The Ionia Homemakers club held an all-day meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. G. B. Brown. The morning business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ed Crenshaw with members answering roll call by telling ways by which they save food.

A contributive lunch was served cafeteria style at noon. A check on Standard of Achievement projects was made and Mrs. S. B. Miller demonstrated short cuts in sewing.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(P)—For a week some of the more vocal football writers have been howling about the inefficiency of officials this season and pointing to the Navy-Georgia Tech game as a horrible example. . . . A detailed report from this corner's Atlanta scout has just arrived and seems to bear out the conclusion that nobody got a raw deal though some of the decisions weren't too hot. . . . Most of the questions apparently arose from a couple of pass interference rulings and our scout points out these normally would be called by the umpire and field judge, both of whom were eastern officials. . . . As for Tech's use of a "sleeper" pass, that was against the rules and was penalized. . . . By this time, the boys probably have found new subjects to debate, but we agree with Brown's Rip Engle — coaches are panned when they do the wrong thing, so why not officials?

Monday Matinee

Texas scribes see the making of another Sammy Baugh in Sammy Jacobs, who pitches passes for the North Side (Fort Worth) Steers, one of the highest scoring schoolboy teams in the state. . . . Harold Keller, who is bidding for a berth on the Maryland basketball team and likely will play baseball, is almost a double for his older brother, Charley, who was quite a college athlete before he joined the Yankees. . . . The last time Andy Gerr, Colgate grid coach, heard, his son, Lt. Billy of the navy, was aboard the carrier Princeton, which was sunk last week.

Jam Session

Coach H. E. Wishard of Graham, Texas, high school has a new addition to the list of how to lose players. . . . In addition to losing four games, he had lost several boys by injuries so during a practice session he decided to try a third-stringer in the backfield. . . . Wishard yelled for the kid to take his position and there was no answer. . . . Another shout brought only a reply from another sub: "He's gone to see Harry James, coach." . . . "To see who?" asked Wishard. . . . "Harry James, you know, Betty Grable's husband." . . . The coach didn't know that the bandleader was only 90 miles away in Fort Worth — but he probably changed his mind about moving the missing boy up to the first string.

Bodies Found On a Farm

SMITHVILLE, Mo., Oct. 30.—(P)—The bodies of Lloyd McCorkle and his wife, Mrs. Agnes McCorkle, were found at their farm near here yesterday morning. A coroner's jury later in the day said the man had died of a gunshot wound and the woman by self-strangulation. The couple had lived on their farm since their marriage, 24 years ago, and were well-to-do, it was said.

Sheriff Holt Coffey of Platte county said the tragedy was discovered by Guy Murphy of Avondale, Mo., a brother of Mrs. McCorkle. Murphy, with his wife and five children, called at the McCorkle home to spend the day, the two men having planned to go fishing, he said. Murphy found McCorkle's body on the back porch, shot through the heart with a 12-gauge shotgun nearby, the sheriff said.

Sheriff Coffey said it would have been impossible for McCorkle to shoot himself, because of the length of the gun barrel.

The body of Mrs. McCorkle was discovered by the sheriff in a bedroom, hanging from a rope fastened to a wall above a doorway. She apparently had stepped from a piano stool to hang herself, the sheriff said.

Why is Ed Lane up in the air?

BECAUSE he's down to earth about conserving coal. That's why he's putting up storm windows. He knows there will be some shortage of coal going to householders.

No less coal is being produced. More is being mined than ever before—with fewer men. Mine owners and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are ample rail facilities for transporting coal to your city.

But certain grades of coal are going to be greatly in demand for war production. And, to make things worse, your local coal dealer faces a shortage in manpower, trucks and tires.

So if you want to keep warm this winter, do everything possible to conserve the coal you can get. The little, common-sense things you can do will make your coal pile go 10% further—and save that much on your fuel bill.

Install weatherstripping. Clean your furnace. Fire carefully, and avoid overheating. Shut off unused rooms. Pull your shades low at night. For other suggestions, see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C & O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.

History of Pacific War By Missourian

Former Resident Of Sweet Springs Chosen for Job

(By Second Lieutenant Jim G. Lucas, a Marine Corps Public Relations Officer, formerly of the Tulsa Tribune.)

WITH THE FOURTH MARINE DIVISION IN THE PACIFIC—

(Delayed)—A former Missouri and Wisconsin English professor, who has been serving as a company commander, has been selected by the Fourth Marine Division to write the history of its accomplishments in the Pacific.

He is Marine Second Lieutenant William Miles Thomas, formerly of Sweet Springs, Mo.

Lieutenant Thomas was selected by Major General Clifton B. Cates, of Tiptonville, Tenn., commanding the Fourth Marine Division, following the conquest of Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas. General Cates directed Lieutenant Thomas to bring the division's history up to date, and to go with it into any future operations, writing history as it is made.

Parents in Sweet Springs
The new division historian is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thomas of Sweet Springs. He attended Fayette and Sweet Springs high schools, before graduating from the Central Missouri State Teachers college, in Warrensburg, Mo., with a bachelor of science degree. He obtained his master's degree from the University of Missouri, Columbia.

For three years, Lieutenant Thomas was a professor of English at the Missouri State School of Mines, Rolla, Mo., and for 18 months was an assistant professor of English at Wisconsin University, Madison, Wis.

He joined the Marine Corps on November 4, 1942, and was made commanding officer of headquarters company in an infantry regiment. Before joining the Fourth Division on March 7, 1942, he had served with the Fifth Amphibious Corps and at Camp Elliott, San Diego, Calif.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Louise Thomas, and their five-year-old daughter, Mary Edith, live in Del Mar, Calif.

Block Nazi Rail Escape

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—The last rail escape route for Germans in northeastern Hungary was blocked by the Russians today with capture of Csap (Cop) on the upper Tisza river, while to the north Berlin reported further Russian gains in the liquidation of an estimated 100,000 Nazis pinned against the Baltic Sea.

Casp, junction of four rail lines at the southwestern edge of liberated Rutenia, was occupied yesterday by troops of Gen. Ivan Petrov's fourth Ukrainian army which fought their way 50 miles across mountainous Eastern Czechoslovakia, Moscow announced.

A midnight bulletin said the Russians seized the town after a day of wild street fighting during which hundreds of Germans were killed.

A Berlin announcement said Soviet troops attacking in western Latvia had penetrated to the Priekule area 20 miles southeast of the Baltic port of Liepaja, and had captured Auce, communications center 70 miles east of Liepaja.

Charges 'Just Propaganda'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—A congressional report tagging the National Citizens Political Action Committee as a Communist group bidding for power brought a "falsehood" retort from NCPAC chairman Sidney Hillman.

A Dies subcommittee of the house reported yesterday that NCPAC "represents the Communists' supreme bid for power" in the United States and that it, together with the political action committee of the CIO, is attempting to gain control of "a major political party."

Hillman, whose organization is supporting the re-election of President Roosevelt, said the report is "simply a part of the campaign to defeat the new deal."

"Everyone knows," Hillman told a reporter, "that the committee made no investigation. Its charges are just propaganda and falsehoods, which have been repeated many times."

Ask Outline Of Policies

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30.—(P)—President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey have been asked by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States to outline their views on universal military training after the war, national headquarters of the organization said today.

The query, it said, was contained in a telegram sent to the two presidential candidates and signed by VFW Commander-in-chief Jean A. Brunner, Forest Hills, N. Y.

The telegram said that at its August convention in Chicago the VFW "voted unanimously" for a post-war national defense program which will include universal military training for the youth of the nation. We strongly advocate adoption of this basic principle as a means of creating a reservoir of trained manpower against any possible military emergency in the future.

"Because the next session of congress will be urged to enact this important legislation, we respectfully request a statement from you indicating your attitude on this vital issue."
